Course Overview

The Equity Markets provide a venue for Corporates to list their shares, raise money & also offer Investors the opportunity to trade &/or Invest in already listed Companies. The function of these Markets is price discovery which is more readily achieved by high levels of participation, ranging from professional Institutional Investors all the way down to Retail Investors.

- Equities in context – comparisons with Bonds as an Asset Class
- Corporate Actions – Dividends, Scrip Issues, Rights Issues, Share Splits, Buybacks

- Depository Receipts for Emerging Market Corporates – Sponsored vs Un-sponsored
- Rise of the machines – Algorithmic Trading & Dark Pools
- Securities Lending – By whom & why exactly?
- The most (over) used pricing metric in the Market – The PE Ratio
- Dividend-related Pricing methodology – Yields
- Asset Based methodology – Price to Book Value; Tangible vs Intangible Assets
- Sales Based methodology – How to explain Tesla's valuation
- Enterprise Values & EBITDA explained
